On behalf of the entire Mosaics Fine Art Festival Board, we extend our deepest gratitude to you – our community – for 30 wonderful years of support and shared passion for the arts!

Since its inception, the Mosaics Fine Art Festival has been more than just an event; it has become a cherished tradition in St. Charles, bringing together talented artists & musicians, dedicated volunteers, and art lovers from near and far.

This milestone is a testament to what we can achieve when a community comes together in support of something meaningful. To the City of St. Charles, the businesses on North Main Street, artists, schools, and the thousands of visitors who attend each year: Thank you. Your commitment and encouragement have helped build a legacy we can be proud of.

With heartfelt appreciation,
Denise Wulff, President
Mosaics Fine Art Festival, Board of Directors

2025 Festival Judge

Hal Moran who calls himself a "wandering photographer," is a life-long resident of the St. Louis area and is primarily self-taught. Growing up with Tourette Syndrome, visual communication became his key to expressing his worldview, and his faith. Hal's primary passion is encouraging others by capturing the gospel narrative in the natural world through film photography. Exhibited nationally & internationally, his artwork is widely held privately, and recognized by the Audubon Society. In recent years, he has switched his focus from landscape to avian photography, building an impressive online reference gallery of over 7,000 bird portraits of 150+ species. Though mostly retired from his wanderings, Hal still leads workshops, writes poetry, and snaps photos daily.
